Question 51

Below are statements about access to police body camera footage. Please indicate which statement most closely reflects your opinion.

The public should have access to video from police body camera video that records officer-involved shootings unless a judge decides releasing it would harm an ongoing investigation.

Police should be able to withhold video of an officer-involved shooting for any reason. They should not have to seek approval from anyone, such as judge, to withhold the video.

Citizens should always have a right to see video from an officer's body camera when it records an officer-involved shooting.
